"Lucky Ducky," said Papa Pig.

"I know you love learning and knowledge.

You're my Future Scholar, and someday you'll go to college!"

"College! Knowledge! Yay! Yay! Yay!
But Papa Pig," said Lucky, "how will we pay?"

"Don't worry," said Papa. "I know just what we need.
We'll plant, tend, and water this 5-2-9 seed."

"We must prepare the ground," said Lucky. "That much I know."

"Yes," said Papa Pig. "You can watch me use the hoe."

"We'll plant our seed," said Papa Pig.

"Yes! In the ground," said Lucky.

"Then, we'll water the seed," said Papa Pig.

"Help me water the mound, Lucky Ducky!"

"We also need," said Papa Pig, "a little light from the sun."

"I see," said Lucky Duck. "This growing sure is fun!"

"Look," said Lucky Ducky, "what is that poking out?"
"Our seed has grown," said Papa Pig. "That is called a sprout!"

"A caterpillar!" said Papa Pig. "He wants to eat our plant!"
"It's not allowed," said Papa. "Mr. Caterpillar, you can't!"

"It worked!" said Papa Pig. "Our plan was a success."

"Hurrray!" said Lucky Ducky. "5-2-9 is the best!"

"Having a plan," said Papa Pig, "is smart, as you can see."

"I really AM a Lucky Ducky now that college is for me!"

"Let's celebrate," said Papa Pig. "This food looks really fine."

"Yes! Celebrate!" said Lucky Ducky. "College and 5-2-9!"
