Please explain how these funds will be used to provide a public benefit:

CORE SC was created by the College of Charleston, Charleston County Government, and the South Carolina Aquarium as a nexus for solutions and best practices for statewide resilience in 5 sectors: Water, Energy, Connectivity, Agriculture, and Natural Hazards (WE CAN). CORE SC works with NASA through the College of Charleston's management of South Carolina's NASA Space Grant and NASA EPSCoR programs, and now includes Dominion Energy and the South Carolina Research Authority on its Board. Other CORE SC partners reflect a breadth of public and private sector representatives with the goal of coordinating awareness of resilience issues and resources that can address those issues to improve quality of life for South Carolinians. This CORE SC funding will support the State's NASA Space Grant and NASA EPSCoR programs and leverage federal funding to develop state research, education/training, and economic development capacity and improve South Carolina's position for attracting a permanent NASA base focused on resilience. A combination of operational support, education/outreach/training support, and research/demonstration project support will further CORE SC's goals of bringing resilience solutions to South Carolinians and enhancing South Carolina's position as a NASA partner, through utilization of existing mechanisms and development of innovative strategies. This State funding will benefit the public through a combination of direct services, research and economic development capacity building leading to enhanced competitiveness for additional federal funding, and increased knowledge about and solutions for resilience issues in South Carolina, and establish South Carolina as a leader in the new space economy.
